

Enhancing Productivity, Improving Security Management

RightCrowd Lost & Forgotten Access Card / Badge Processing

Designed to automate and secure the process of requesting and approving temporary access cards

Using a self-service kiosk, the worker can request a replacement badge by logging in and using their domain credentials. Once authenticated, the kiosk can then dispense a site access card to the worker with access privileges matching those of their regular card.

The worker's regular card is automatically deactivated at this time with a full audit trail available. The process of replacing lost and forgotten access cards is fully automated and auditable.

RightCrowd works with Fortune 50 companies simplifying and automating the processes that govern security, safety and compliance.
