

RightCrowd Workforce Access

Don't just control access - manage it

RightCrowd Workforce Access ensures your PACS is automatically kept in sync with your business. Our intelligent solution automates access levels in accordance with your security policies, safety rules, and compliance requirements while keeping cardholder data up-to-date.

Implement Attribute-Based Physical Access Control

RightCrowd Workforce Access automates the access control processes for employees and contractors across their life cycle.

The solution seamlessly integrates with Physical Access Control and many enterprise systems, while giving your workforce the best experience and a single view of every employee, contractor and visitor on site.

Through attribute-based access control (ABAC) rules, our software ensures that everyone is trained for the job, working in compliance with local regulations and can be evacuated safely in an emergency. Site or area entry for cardholders can be tied to competencies, health checks and numerous other requirements.

Automate access management

Remove error-prone manual processes. Automate on-boarding, badge management, access requests, access audits, off-boarding, and many more processes.

Make access control more dynamic

Replace static access permissions with dynamic attribute-based access control (ABAC) rules that set and remove access based on data from pertinent systems.

Enable self-service

Easy and secure, self-service tools for employees and contractors to efficiently manage physical workplace access.

Enforce safety, security and compliance

Automatically set or remove access rights to your sites by enacting global and local policies.

Keep your PACS in sync with your business

Complete control of your physical identity and access management (PIAM), taking input from relevant business systems and fully integrated with your PACS.

Go into your next audit with confidence

Keep full audit trails of all cardholder and access levels changes, and automate periodic access audits.

Did you know, 99% of Physical Access Control Systems contain out of sync data?

Give every worker safe, secure and compliant access when they need it with RightCrowd Workforce Access.

Automate the lifecycle management of cardholders and credentials

Your workforce changes every single day. Keep your employee, contractor, and visitor information proactively up-to-date with your Physical Access Control System by using automation driven from your organization's HR, IT, Finance, OH&S data and other relevant data sources.

Enforce security, safety and health policies continuously

Every industry has strict safety, health and security requirements that need to be checked before access is granted. From a mandatory safety induction video or NDA, to required certifications or random screenings, to time spent on site, these requirements need to be enforced to both protect people and ensure compliance.

RightCrowd Workforce Access includes software modules to automatically manage time-on-site constraints related to fatigue management, to enforce random drug and alcohol tests, to validate training, certification or medical requirements, and to streamline mustering in case of an evacuation. This ensures that access will be denied if those requirements are not met through our integration with your Physical Access Control System.

Support audit and compliance requirements

Both best practices and industry standards dictate that all physical access permissions and changes to those permissions are stored and available for audit purposes. It is not sufficient to know who has access to what. You also need to know why certain access levels were granted, and who approved it, especially for high-risk areas.

RightCrowd Workforce Access software keeps full audit trails of all changes to both cardholder identities and access levels. Our software suite also includes a module that automates access audit and attestation. With RightCrowd you are ready for an audit at anytime.

All your systems working seamlessly together

Integrate your employee, contractor and visitor information from all systems to create a single cardholder profile needed to make good access decisions. From Physical Access Control, over Active Directory and HR, to Learning Management and ERP, RightCrowd helps connect your systems and automate your processes to improve safety, security and compliance in your organization.
